A Circular from the Medical Milk Commission of the El Paso County Medical Society.

New that the hot season is fast approaching, the need for pure milk low in hacteria is most necessary to the weinre of the infants of our city; therefore, the Musical Milk Commission wishes to again call the attention of the profession and public to certified milk.

The activation for possible to the control of the profession and public to certified milk.

of the profession and public to certified milk.

The agination for certified milk was started more than three years ago by the El Paso Co. Medical Society, and the outcome was the appointment of a Counsission of six of its members to be known as the Medical Milk Commission of the El Paso Co. Medical Society. These gentlemen organized, and formulated rules and regulations in conformity with those of the National Medical Milk Commission.

All the dairies of the city were given a chance to furnish certified milk, providing it conformed with their Rules and Regulations, but only one cared to so to the trouble and expanse necessary to produce this product. But as a commission we want to say that we stand regulations, but only one cared to so to the trouble and expanse necessary to produce this product. But as a commission we want to say that we stand ready at any time to certify to milk from any dairy whatsoever that will meet the requirements of our rules and regulations, for it is not the idea or province of this Commission to favor one dairy above another, but this Commission does feet that it should stand behind and recommend a product that meets its rules and regulations so uniformly and well us does the certified milk that is being produced under its oversight and care.

The term 'Certified Milk' is technical and requires an explanation in cr-oversight and care.

The term "Certified Milk" is technical and requires an explanation in erder that the public may know it is milk produced under very special conditions, which are certified to by a Medical Milk Commission.

which are certified to by a Medical Milk Commission.

M. J. Rossman, Professor of Preventive Medicale and Hygiene, Harvard Medical School, states:

"Certified milk is the very cleanest, the very freshest, the very eleanest, the very purest, and the very safest raw milk that it is possible to produce. It is milk of uniform composition and of highest quality, obtained by cleanly methods from healthy cows under special sauffary precautions prescribed by a medical milk commission. Certified milk represents one of those high ideals which at first seems visionary and unsatialmshie, but is, in reality, an accomplished fact.

The production of certified milk in many issiminces is an example of the saying that pence has its heroes and victories no less than war. It does not appear to be quite no valiant a deed to capture the stronghold of prejudice, in order to provent sickness and save the lives of babies, as it does to charge up a hill against houtile guns. The introduction of certified milk into a community is a real struggle which requires patience, capital, pluck and determination."

"MRS. WEGS OF CAHRAGE PATCH."

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Calage Patch," the widely known story by alice Hegan Bice, is the attraction at the Alhambra today and tomorrow.

To miss this delightful and enjoyable film is to deprive yourself of one of the pleasures of life. The humor and nathes in the lives of Mrs. Wiggs, Lover Mary and Miss Harr, as seen by the author and depicted on the screen make an evening's entertailment, and so enjoyable one at that.

Beatrix Micheleina, the beautiful operatic star, as "Lovey Mary"; Elanche Chapman as "Mrs. Wiggs," and House Peters as the hero. "Boh," each take their parts admirably and present the whole with a convincing touch.

Himor, pathes and human interest abound in this story and form an exceptionally pleasing offering.
